Introduction

As the EU prepares its next Multiannual Financial Framework (MFF), urgent questions arise about how public budgets reflect our values. Despite binding commitments to gender equality and inclusive governance, the EU's budgetary processes remain far from being gender responsive. Increased militarization of EU budgets threatens to crowd out social spending and further marginalize the gender equality agenda. It's time to reaffirm a rights-based fiscal approach and ensure that gender responsive budgeting (GRB) is not sidelined but at the centre of its planning, formulation and execution.

Title of the conference

Gender Budgeting in the New EU Multiannual Financial Framework: Making Budgets work for Gender Equality and Women's Human Rights in Europe

The aims of the conference

The conference aims at:

- contributing to building solid foundations for the next EU budget (MFF 2028-2034) to promote gender equality, women's rights, peace and social investments
- sharing perspectives with European institutions, especially co-legislators, on how to strengthen the legislative proposals in the negotiation process in order to strengthen investments in what matters for people in Europe
- fostering inclusive cooperation with civil society and global partners to effectively contribute to the negotiation process
- discussing the way forward for the European Gender Budgeting Network and building partnerships and joint advocacy strategies.

Dates and duration of the conference

The conference will take place in Nicosia, Cyprus on the 26 and 27 March 2026

Cyprus the Host Country

Cyprus, the island of Aphrodite, the Goddess of peace and patron of loving couples is situated in the northeastern mediterranean corner of the mediterranean sea, at the crossroad of three continents.

In the course of its 10 000 years of history the island has been a cultural and trade meeting place of great importance and traces of Hellenic, Roman, Lusignan and Venetian cultures are found everywhere.

The island's natural beauty, golden sandy beaches, cool pine-clad mountains, nature walks, in still-unspoiled areas, a varied nightlife, good shopping and good food, coupled with advanced telecommunications and latest technology, make Cyprus the perfect conference and holiday destination.

Nicosia the conference city has a history of 5000 years and has been the capital of Cyprus for the last 1000. Its rather stormy history and the many invaders enriched it with their monuments but did not change its heart. Even today, torn in two and being the only divided capital of the world, the city looks upon the future with optimism and takes great pride in showing its rich cultural and historical heritage to its many visitors.
